DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 16-19 are cancelled based on the response filed on 3/24/2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 23-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Negishi et al. (US 4,215,387).

Regarding claim 23, Negishi et al. disclose an assembly comprising:

- a circuit board (2);
- a component (7); and
- one or more flexible coupling elements attaching the component to the circuit board such that the flexible coupling elements decrease strain on the component that is caused by deformations of the circuit board (column 4, lines 4-6).

Regarding claim 24, Negishi et al. disclose wherein the component includes a metal film resistor (column 3, lines 41-42).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-15 and 20-22 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claims 1-10, the prior art alone or in combination does not teach the limitation of a detector assembly comprising: a first capacitor plate and a second capacitor plate, a surface of the second capacitor plate being spaced apart from a surface of the first capacitor plate to define a capacitor gap, the first capacitor plate being positioned to be inside the lower pressure region when the detector assembly is attached to the chamber wall, the second capacitor plate being supported by the support element through insulating coupling.

Regarding claims 11-15, the prior art alone or in combination does not teach the limitation of a detector assembly comprising: a first capacitor plate positioned to be inside the lower pressure region when the detector assembly is attached to the vacuum chamber wall, a second capacitor plate having a surface spaced apart from a surface of the first capacitor plate to define a capacitor gap, the second capacitor plate being attached to the support element and positioned to separate the lower and higher pressure regions and being configured to receive a fastener to attach a circuit board to the detector assembly.

With respect to claims 20-22, the prior art alone or in combination does not teach the limitation of an assembly comprising: a support element configured to attached to a wall that separates a lower pressure region and a higher pressure region, and a part attached to the support element, the part being positioned to separate the lower and higher pressure regions, and configured to attach a circuit board to the assembly.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Citation Relevant of Prior Art

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

a. Murowaki et al. (US 6,466,447) disclose electronic control unit having flexible wires connecting connector to circuit board.

b. Barber et al. (US 6,242,989) disclose article comprising a multi-port variable capacitor.

c. Merkle et al. (US 6,093,054) disclose connector for connecting a printed circuit board to a flat flexible circuit.
